

Presenting:
Keynote speaker

Tammy Scheidegger, PhD, LPC

SAVE THE DATE:

18th Annual Social Work Conference
Join us for an Ethics Social Work Conference!

Ethics, Boundaries and Self-Care

Tuesday, October 16, 2018

7:15 AM - 12:30 PM

Briggs & Stratton Auditorium

Children's Hospital of WI

For complete conference information and registration, visit www.maxishare.com/conferences after April 30. For questions, contact conference coordinator, Julie Turkoske at (414) 337-7716 or JTurkoske@chw.org.

Presentation:

Identify the ethical codes that require professional mental health care providers to focus on self-care. Understand how professional self-care translates into healthy boundaries and positive client/consumer outcomes. Learn to use the Healthy Mind Platter as a template for implementing daily self-care routines. Know how and when to implement informal and formal procedures for getting yourself or a colleague the help they need to stay well.

Target audience

This conference is designed for social workers and allied health professionals at all levels.

Continuing Education Credits

Social Workers will receive social work ethics and boundaries clock hours under ASWB and MPSW 19 for participating in this course.